The Lednice-Valtice Area, cultural-natural complex is registered in the list of monuments protected as World Heritage by UNESCO. At the end of the 18th century, the local manor lordship - the House of Liechtenstein - began to create a unique manmade landscape complex - The Lednice - Valtice Area. During the 19th century, the Liechtenstein family continued transforming the area, which has since been called the "Garden of Europe", into a large landscape park with two centers: Valtice and Lednice castles with their contiguous villages. The Garden of Europe spreads in the warmest place of the Czech Republic area close to Mikulov town.
